DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-10 are pending.

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 3 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. The compound in claim 3 or the compound in claim 4 is a product of nature. The claimed compounds do not represent a product made by a process, or in isolated or purified form.

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-2,5,7-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification, while being enabling for compound of formula (III) and formula (IV) wherein R_1 and R_2 form a dioxolane ring, does not reasonably provide enablement for the compounds other than the benzo-dioxolane. The specification does not enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the invention commensurate in scope with these claims. The current benzo-dioxolane is a product of nature and its chemical structure is unique. There is no teaching in the specification to synthesize the same. The cleavage of the dioxolane ring or to expand the ring size of the same to form the claimed compounds does require additional research and experimentation for one of skilled in the art. A textbook teaching is deemed insufficient.

Art Unit: 1625

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 9 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The term “inhibiting c-maf and NFAT “ stands for a medical function. It does not stand for a specific or meaningful disease.

Claim 6 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims. Compound (IV) is isolated by the claimed process which is novel and unobvious.
